

Contents

DECEMBER 2008

18 Chairman's message
Eurocracy gone mad? George Done questions the cost of Part M to owners

5 AOPA Working For You
Good and bad in EASA-FCL; CAA plumbs new depths on insurance; battle won on avgas costs; Shoreham GPS opens; Oxford prices rise; upgraded your ELT yet?

18 Beech Duke
The rare but able predecessor of the King Air mightily impresses Les Brodie

22 'Tis the season
A tiny amount of ice can ruin your whole day, says Dr Foster Ross

22 Part-time instructing
Despite the hassles, it's still well worthwhile going for an FI rating, says Matt Lane

26 Warbird pilot
Michael Weber, Mustang pilot at 23, B25 pilot at 25, tell Pat Malone how to get into warbird flying

30 Flying in Kenya
New ICAO demands are creating a bureaucratic morass that threatens to drag down general aviation in Kenya, as Harro Trempenau reports

33 Briefings
Fuel cell aircraft to fly; exchange rate aids Aussie 'Spitfire' buyers; Danish VAT break to continue through 2009

34 Proud to be NORDO
Meet the deaf pilot who's about to get his gliding instructor rating. Liz Moscrop reports

36 Unhappy landings
Wind farms again threaten several aerodromes, as David Ogilvy reports

38 Topsy Trainer
A neat little design that did a lot with a little engine, writes David Ogilvy

42 Keeping it clean
Cleaning an aeroplane is not like washing a car, as Pat Malone discovers

46 Book reviews

48 Business feels the pinch
The NBAA show in Orlando and Helitech in Portugal remain upbeat in the face of financial difficulty. By Liz Moscrop and Pat Malone

